

I am a small business operator employing 7 people, and currently work for a wage less than those I employ. I am constantly asking myself why employ people. I cannot increase my prices in order to cover cost increases in my business, and another rise in electricity will force me to lay off staff in exchange to keeping my customers happy with no rise to my prices.