

I am writing to complain about the pending increase in tariff of electricity in our sector. Big business can probably absorb this rise but all it does is make it even harder for small business make ends meet.