

We are a small business improvement consultancy and many of our clients are suffering from low margins and cash flow issues. An increase in electricity tariffs could send some of these businesses to the wall or at least make them lay off staff or reconsider hiring. We are also considering hiring but any increase in our cost base could make this unfeasible.